Casa Vista del Tenorio is a stylish 3 bedroom/3bath home on a 1.45 hectare lot just outside of Bijagua, Costa Rica. The area is known for the Tenorio National Park and Rio Celeste - one of the most frequently visited tourist spots in Costa Rica. The small town of Bijagua is economically booming with new restaurants, two new micro breweries, grocery stores and all of the amenities you require on a daily basis. The 1.45 hectare lot is long and narrow with two creeks and a natural spring on the back half. The property also has legal municipal water and electricity. Many varieties of mature fruit trees exist on the property including bananas, coconuts, avocados, mora, cacao and more! There are several outbuildings that are used as greenhouses, storage and for vegetable gardening. The house is spacious at 140m2 and features large bedrooms and newer appliances in the kitchen. This would make a great property for someone looking to build cabinas, or a self-sufficient homestead. A commercial tourist business is also a possibility given that the property fronts on a well-travelled main road.
